

On Wednesday evening a pretty wedding ceremony was performed in St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, Waikiki, when Miss Adele Driver and Dr. F. E. Frates were united in wedlock by the Right Reverend Bishop Labort. Father Valentin and Father Stodden assisted in the services. From the church to the Driver home, Berea, came the bridal party was conveyed in autos. As the bride and groom stepped upon the veranda a Hawaiian chorus sang them a joyful musical welcome and soon the guests arrived. The house was brilliantly illuminated and decorated in green and white. The reception parlor was hung with festoons of white with here and there clusters of red, slender potted palms adding a tropical effect. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, the maid of honor, Miss Dickson; the best man, Mr. Samuel Walker; Mrs. Driver, the bride's mother, and Mrs. Emil Driver. The little flower girls, the Misses Low, Mungson, Davison and Hall, stood in the reception hall to which the guests were ushered by Messrs. Will Dickson, Clarence Waterman, George Fuller and C. A. Call.—The latest news from Honolulu contains some interesting gossip about army people who are entertaining at various delightful affairs. One of the most recent parties of note was given by Mrs. James Robert Pourie, the wife of Captain Pourie, who is at Fort Ruger. There has been a jolly house party at the home of the hostess with Rear Admiral and Mrs. Whiting as the honored guests.

Another party that merits mention as a pleasant reunion was given for Miss Marie Whiting and thirty of her young friends. There were several other guests in the circle and among those whose names are familiar to friends here were Miss Mungson, Mrs. Dunning, wife of Major Dunning, who is at Fort Shafter, Mrs. Pauline, wife of Lieutenant Pauline.

also at Fort Shafter; Miss Cree, the Misses Hough or Stockton, Miss Lydia McStocker and Miss Julie McStocker. Mrs. Pourie will entertain at a tea to be given Monday, January 10, at Fort Ruger that will be probably in the nature of a farewell to her army friends there, for Mrs. Pourie expects to come here soon for a visit.

Examiners—Sympathy is being expressed for Mrs. G. Russell Loken, who is en route to Washington to attend the funeral of her father, Capt. J. Mallon, U. S. A., retired, whose passing occurred on Tuesday in the family residence at the national capital. Mrs. Loken will probably be in the East an indefinite period.

The Wednesday morning studies in literature will begin again on January 10, with a series of five lectures by Mrs. P. L. Weaver on "Greek Myth and Modern Life." New material concerning this study of the last thirty years that has done much to justify and interpret the gods and myths and on the Greek mind and their personal vitality in art. This material, now largely available, the lectures will attempt to use, especially when it bears upon their art, their enthusiasm and their relation to certain phases of current thought popularly characterized as "romantic."

While not in any sense a course in art, the studies present material, which can scarcely fail to give an insight into both the past and the present, and for those at home who are for modern reproductions of works of art. As for the three earlier courses, Mrs. Walter E. Frear will open her hospitable home, Panahan street, successive Wednesdays at half past ten. Attendance is not compulsory and any one interested can obtain further information from Miss Beatrice Castle, or Mrs. William A. Loken.
